BAXTER RESIGNS AS ROAD ENGINEER

Surprise at Regular Meeting of Fiscal Court—No Successor Chosen Yet.

Quite a surprise was caused at the regular monthly meeting of the Madison Fiscal Court Tuesday morning when the resignation of County Road Engineer J. G. Baxter was presented to the court. Mr. Baxter did not give any explanation of his action, but merely thanked the court for their kindness to him. He made his resignation effective April 1, 1923. He has served as road engineer of Madison for the past four years and during that time some notable work has been done in improvement of some of the main thoroughfares of the county. The members of the court did not take any action looking toward filling the vacancy that will be caused by his resignation.

The court was not in session long, there being little outside of routine business to come before the magistrates. On motion of Squire Sandlin, Harriett Roberts was allowed $4 a month; on motion of Squire Jones, Hattie Ward was allowed $50 a year; on motion of Squire Sandlin, Susan Runnan was allowed $4 a month; on motion of Squire Burgin, Nancy Brown was allowed $4 a month; Wilbert Warmuth was admitted to the county infirmary for 1 year; on motion of Squire Tipton, Tom Reed was allowed $20 a year.

On motion of Squire Jones, the court voted to allow Jesse Broadus $1,200 for construction of the Panola bridge, as it has met with the specifications of the Road Department. On motion of Squire Burgin, W. R. Black was allowed $312.50 for work on a quarter of mile of road. On motion of Squire Jones, B. M. Igo was allowed $208 for the fence on his property.

Woman Murderer Escapes From Los Angeles Jail

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 5.—Clara Phillips climbed out of a window in the woman's section of the county jail and escaped today. She is under sentence of 10 years to life imprisonment after conviction for the hammer murder of Albert Meadows. She was in jail pending an appeal of her case. She sawed through the bars to her cell, dropped from a window to an adjoining roof and disappeared, probably in an automobile. Her escape was not discovered until the matron making her rounds, saw the empty bed in her cell several hours later.

WRECK AT SHEARER

BLOCKS TRAFFIC

Traffic on this division of the L. & N. will be blocked for several hours today as a result of derailment of nine freight cars of merchandise at Boonesboro (formerly Shearer station) about eight miles north of Richmond, at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The cars appear to have run onto a broken rail and nine of them went off, piling up and tearing up trackwork for a considerable distance. So far as can be learned no one was hurt. Wreckers from Corbin and Ravenna were immediately dispatched to the scene and are working hard to clear up things for the afternoon trains.

The early morning trains, south and northbound, exchanged passengers around the wreck as far as possible.

TWO AUTOMOBILES

RUINED IN SMASH

The cars of Hugh Collier and Millard Farthing were badly damaged as a result of a smash-up on the Big Hill pike late Sunday afternoon. Both of the front wheels of Mr. Collier's car were torn off and it was badly wrecked. Mr. Farthing's car was badly damaged also. Both were large touring cars. None of the occupants of the two cars was injured, but all were shaken up, of course.

The public schools began again Monday after the Thanksgiving holidays with a full attendance. The boys and girls are all practicing basketball now.

COATES OPENS EDUCATION WEEK

Here With Address to Normal Students on "Illiteracy"; Urges Equal Chance for All.

President T. J. Coates delivered an address to the students of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School at chapel Tuesday morning on the subject "Illiteracy." This is the first of a group of lectures to be given as part of the program planned for the observance of National Education Week.

President Coates first read Lincoln's Gettysburg Address to the American people and explained its relation today. He stated that the democracy to which Mr. Lincoln referred meant that in the race course of life every individual should have a chance to run and not be crowded off the course and only education could make this equalization possible. He said that only the state with the power of taxation behind it could wipe out illiteracy.

In this country the duties of citizenship are expected and required of every individual. It is impossible to perform these duties without education, said President Coates, and if America demands citizenship of all it is the duty of the state and nation to prepare every individual for this citizenship by wiping out illiteracy.

Basket Ball Players From All Over County To Contest Here For Cup

The Madison county basketball tourney will start Friday afternoon at 3:30 in the Madison Hi gym with the boys teams of White Hall and Union City posing each other. After this game the girls teams from the same schools will endeavor to put one out of the race. In the evening, Friday, beginning at 7:30, Kirksville will oppose Waco in both divisions. The finals will be played off Saturday night beginning at 7:30 o'clock, the winners in each division on Friday afternoon opposing the Friday night winners.

The heads of the schools that will take part in the tournament met with Coach Lassiter, of Madison, Monday afternoon and drew for opposition. They are all enthusiastic over the tourney and are going to send in the best teams possible in an effort to take home the cup which is offered in each division by Coach Lassiter. Permanent possession of the cup can be had by winning it two times in three successive years. A great many followers of the teams will come with their representatives and with the Richmond fans will crowd the Madison gym. It is expected. Reports from Union City say that there is a boys team which will give trouble to anyone. However, Union City rules favorite in the boys division, while Waco seems to be the choice of the fans in the girls side of the contests. The county teams are being worked hard by their coaches in an effort to whip them into shape for the big games. Some fast basketball is sure to be seen.

POOLERS URGED

STRIP WEED SLOWLY

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 5.—Warehouse graders for the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association were in Lexington Monday for final instructions before taking up next Monday their duties at the receiving plants of the Burley Association throughout the district.

Director Barker has approved a set of instructions to members of the association relating to the proper preparation of their tobacco for delivery and arrangements have been made for notification to growers as to the time for delivery of their crops.

In these instructions growers are urged to "take their time" about stripping and grading, so that they shall get the best results, it being pointed out that there is no need for hurry and that nobody is going to rush to the market ahead of the growers who want to take the necessary time to prepare his crop so that it will make the best possible grade and appearance when delivered to the association.

THERE is no sympathy so helpful to a family that is bereaved as that of true friends and no help so reassuring as that of the good funeral director.

Acting in your stead, he understands that he must act in your spirit, performing each task with the reverence and tenderness with which your own hands would perform it if they could.

Sympathy which cannot be gracefully conveyed by words is revealed through his acts of service which bring the comforting assurance that every attention has been given with thoughtfulness and skill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5—President Harding broke a precedent today by permitting the second day of a new session of Congress to pass without delivering his annual message reporting on the "state of the union," and outlining recommendations of the administration for legislation. It is said at the White House no date has been fixed for the president's appearance before the house and senate but that he expected to complete his message in time to deliver it before the end of the week. Officials indicated that pressure of public business prevented compliance with the usual custom.

HOW TO ESCAPE FROM EVIL.

—Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the Most High, thy habitation; there shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.—Psalm 91:9-11.

Clemenceau says that all women look alike to him, showing that he comes from a country where the women don't vote.

The logical thing for the deposed Sultan of Turkey to do is to rent him a house in Doorn, next to his old colleague, the Kaiser.

French wine producers are said to be encouraged over the American election results. Such incurable optimists would be encouraged over the promise of the support of a republican vote in Mississippi.

A lot of sizzly sentimentality is being poured into the governor's office at Frankfort in favor of a commutation of the death sentence of Steve McQueen, who assassinated Uncle Ike Coyle near Big Hill some months ago. From what the Daily Register can learn from those who live near the scene of the crime, which took place right on the borders of Madison, the murder was one of the most cold-blooded, inexcusable and premeditated ever known in that section. McQueen and a companion called the old man to his door and then deliberately shot him to death and stretched his body out and left him till some children playing under the house a day or so later noticed that blood had dripped through cracks in the floor. If McQueen doesn't deserve to pay the extreme penalty for his fiendish crime, Kentucky might as well abolish the death penalty for murder.

Bank Robbers Fail In Owen County Attempt

Monterey, Ky., Dec. 4—Ira Kemper, cashier of the First State Bank of Owen county, and county authorities are conducting an investigation into the unsuccessful attempt to rob the bank. About $5,000 was in the safe when the thieves obtained an entrance thru the back door by the use of a duplicate key and made an effort to force the combination. Failing in this attempt they went outside. After digging thru the wall and finding a steel wall to penetrate, it is thought the thieves gave up the attempt.

SWIFT'S PRODUCE REVIEW

Arrivals of fowl and springs have been very heavy and while the demand was fairly good for chickens, Thanksgiving trade was very quiet on fowl.

The turkey supply arriving for Thanksgiving trade was thought to be light, but later arrivals depressed the market and it is generally closing in a very satisfactory condition especially in Chicago where the market dropped 5c on November 28, due to the large supply and light demand.

Foreign turkeys are being attracted to the states due to prices that have prevailed, and it is expected importations from the foreign countries will take care of this demand at much lower basis than our domestic production. It is generally expected that practically the remaining crop of turkeys will have to be used for Christmas trade.

The Associated Press carried a dispatch under date of November 28 from Boston, stating that Mayor Curley had on that date addressed a complaint to Atty. General Daugherty on the price of turkeys.

The decline in Chicago values may be partially attributed to the newspaper publicity given to the high prices being asked. Undoubtedly more reasonable price will have to prevail for Christmas turkeys if the remaining supply is to be marketed satisfactorily.

M. Clemenceau, the Tiger of France, during his Chicago visit, last week revealed the secret which has enabled him to reach the age of 81 years with vitality and power of endurance that would tax the energy of many men half his age. The secret is eggs. He ordered 8 soft boiled for his supper Monday evening and upon going to bed at 8 p. m. left orders for 5 more to be served for his breakfast on the following morning.

Fresh egg market reacted quickly after the decline in Chicago last week. The supply is light and prices well sustained.

The make of butter showed a little increase last week due more to arrival of delayed shipments of cream, rather than increased production. Storage stocks have been greatly reduced. The markets on butter have worked a little higher during the week, with corresponding advance in prices paid for butterfat throughout the producing section. Definite bookings have been made of New Zealand butter for early arrivals on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts early in January.

The Boston Post named Capt. "Red" Roberts, of Centre, as an end on its All-American team. Kubale is also mentioned as one country's greatest centers.

SEVEN AGES OF MAN
When the Dead Line Reached in Human Life?

Human vitality begins to wane at 40, which is about the fifth age of life. People around the age of 40 are dropping out of life because they neglect to keep the human vital spark in full flame.

Infirmities and disease are mainly caused by constipation. Few people realize how fatal to health are the waste poisons which clog the intestines and bowels. People in middle life are easy victims of colds, grippe, and pneumonia.

Health, the most precious gift in life, should be carefully watched by everyone. Millions of people today are guarding their health and keeping their system regulated by using Bulgarian Herb Tea.

To break up bad colds a cupful of Bulgarian Herb Tea taken hot at bedtime gives splendid results. Its gentle laxative qualities aid nature to relieve constipation, indigestion, biliousness, stomach and bowel troubles.

Just make up your mind to keep well and strong by using this pure medicinal tea at least once each week. Just watch your health improve. You will never want to be without it. See your druggist today. He can honestly recommend Bulgarian Herb Tea.

What Maud Purina Represents

MAUD PURINA is the most famous mule character in the country. Most everybody knows Maud. Maud is an amusing mule. But her main intent in life is to represent Purina O-Molene, the balanced feed for mules and horses.

Maud has shewn thousands of horse and mule owners why dry, tasteless oats, corn and hay do not produce the most energy and longest service from work animals.

It is not the quantity you feed but the kind. Corn and oats lack variety and make it necessary to send mules and horses to pasture, if they are expected to last long.

Purina O-Molene supplies the necessary variety to keep the animals in good health and make them stronger. The choice grains are put through a special process that makes them more appetizing. This process also makes O-Molene more completely digestible. This, of course, produces more results. And you use much less O-Molene than ordinary grains or "mixed feed."

Try a few bags and watch the excellent results.

WHO BUYS MORTGAGES?

By G. L. Miller

These money bags illustrate the billions of dollars invested in mortgages by banks, insurance companies and building and loan associations.

The Premier Investment—II

To a great class of sound, conservative, substantial people who, fortunately, form a large proportion of the population of the United States, mortgage investments have always made a strong appeal. Whether these people admit it or not, they seek safety first of all in their investments, and are willing to sacrifice some hopes of glittering speculative gains in order to obtain safety. With safety assured, they enjoy seeking and obtaining good bargains in the way of liberal interest returns, for many of these people are good judges of property values. Sometimes they seem to possess a sort of sixth sense for property values and mortgage investments. In the long run they have the laugh on the speculative folks who put their money into risky, speculative ventures, in the hope of making quick profits. Over a long period of years the mortgage investor can show a handsome rate of return on his money, whereas even people who are accounted successful speculators can show, too often, some 2 or 3 per cent. Thousands of them "go broke" completely.

The speculator is almost sure to lose his money at last.

While individual investors are more and more appreciating the high merits of first mortgage securities, these securities have for many years been favorites with such experienced investors as banks, insurance companies and other institutions which possess hundreds of millions of dollars for which a safe and profitable form of investment had to be discovered. These institutions, to which safety is forever the watchword, found that the first mortgages offered the only safe and profitable form of investment for the vast amount of other people's money which they had on hand. According to the latest available statistics, banks in all states throughout the United States own more than $3,600,000,000 of first mortgages on real estate. The life insurance companies of the United States, which are recognized to be as sound and stable as any institutions in the world, have more than $2,300,000,000 of their funds invested in first mortgages. The amount owned by life insurance companies is increasing year by year.

Another Great Investor

Another great investor in first mortgages is the building and loan association. There are more than 8,000 such associations in the United States with a total membership numbering more than 4,300,000 persons. The total assets of these associations, constituted almost wholly of first mortgages on real property, now amount to approximately $2,500,000,000. There could be no better indication of the safety and other high investment qualities of first mortgage securities than the fact that these great financial institutions such as banks, insurance companies and building and loan associations have placed billions of dollars of their money in first mortgages.

Banks and insurance companies are experienced buyers of mortgages. They employ experts who make careful investigation to prevent investment losses. Today the individual investor is in a position to invest his money in first mortgage securities with equal safety. There are reliable firms of investment bankers who make it their business to select good mortgage paper and sell it to their clients. In many cases the client relies absolutely on the banker's good judgment and honesty. Under these conditions, mortgages can be bought with perfect safety by the most inexperienced people. But be sure that the banker is a man or a firm of high integrity and unquestioned ability.

For reasons which will be explained in later articles, the South offers a higher rate of interest on mortgage security than most other sections of the country, but with no sacrifice of safety. Recognizing this fact, people all over the United States are, at the time I am writing, pouring hundreds of thousands and millions of dollars into first mortgages and first mortgage bonds, chiefly the latter, secured by property in Southern cities. These investors are seizing an opportunity to get 7 and 7½ per cent with complete safety.

Mortgages were popular as investments long before copper stocks and bonds were heard of. The intrinsic soundness of the security was early established, and today mortgages are bought and held by people who would not think of touching anything else. Their rules for testing the investment are simple. The security must be a first mortgage—that is, it must be a first claim on the property, rather than a second mortgage, which would only be paid (in case of foreclosure) after the existing first mortgage had been paid. (And the loan or mortgage must not exceed 60 to 70 per cent of the actual value of the property, so that ample protection would be assured in case a forced sale became necessary. Needless to say, until comparatively recent years investing in mortgages by individuals was pretty much restricted to local operations, as each investor would want to be personally familiar with the property involved. He would usually lend in his own community, though now and then when he "took a trip" to another section he would come across a particularly attractive proposition and would make a loan based on his personal observation.

Investing Away From Home

The writer, when he started in the mortgage business in Miami, Florida, a good many years ago, had great opportunity to observe the habits of mortgage buyers. They would come to Miami as tourists or visitors, would be impressed with the possibilities of the place, and would take a Miami first mortgage back home with them. The interesting part of it was that they would immediately become missionaries in their home communities, preaching the merits of Miami mortgages, until a little colony of local investors in Miami securities would be formed. Many of these people are still buying Miami mortgages and first mortgage bonds.

Mortgages, when considered with regard to the kind of property securing them, fall into two main classes: farm mortgages and city real estate mortgages. In the present series of articles we will not have an opportunity to discuss the former class. Mortgages on city real estate range in amount from the $1,000 loan on a small residence property to the loan of hundreds of thousands or even millions on large apartment buildings, hotels and other commercial structures. Mortgages on the latter class, of course, are too large for any individual investor to consider, but a plan was evolved of splitting these large loans into smaller parts for distribution to individuals in convenient amounts. This plan will be discussed in detail later on.

The mortgage of moderate amount on a piece of property, usually runs from five to ten years. Bankers who sell these mortgages to individuals usually make it their business to look after all legal and technical details, such as appraisal of the property, payment of taxes and insurance, supervision to prevent deterioration, collection of rent, etc. In this way the field of mortgage investment has been widened until the investor in California can buy a mortgage on Southern property, three thousand miles away, and be perfectly sure of what he is getting, provided he deals with the right sort of banker.
